Projet professionnel / Professionnal project

Projet professionnel /

My career ambition is to pursue a path that offers high levels of responsibility and allows me to make a significant impact in the organizations I work with. I aim to take on roles where I can drive strategic decisions, lead complex projects, and contribute meaningfully to both business growth and innovation. At the same time, I seek a career that is intellectually fulfilling, where I can continue to learn, face new challenges, and grow in my expertise. Ultimately, I want to be in a position where I can leverage my skills in consulting, project management, data analysis, and leadership to drive positive change while also satisfying my curiosity and passion for problem-solving

Motivations / Motivations

Pourquoi avez-vous fait le choix de ce Mastère Spécialisé ? / Why did you choose this

I chose the MSc Stratégie, Conseil et Organisation at ESCP because it aligns perfectly with my professional background and career aspirations. With experience in project management, data analysis, and strategic leadership at Amazon and as the founder of Tenoris Analytics, I've developed strong analytical and problem-solving skills. This program will allow me to deepen my knowledge in strategy and consulting, enhance my leadership capabilities, and expand my understanding of organizational dynamics, which are essential for my long-term goal of driving impactful business transformations. The international environment at ESCP also provides a unique opportunity to work with diverse teams and gain global insights into strategy and management.

Activités extra-professionnelles / Extra professional activities

In my free time, I enjoy activities that challenge my mind and broaden my perspective. I have a passion for complex strategic games, which allow me to think critically and develop problem-solving skills. I also enjoy coding simple tools and solutions, as it lets me combine creativity with technical expertise.

When I'm not indoors, I love hiking and exploring nature, which helps me recharge and stay active. I often visit museums, as I have a deep interest in art, history, and culture. Additionally, I enjoy reading about geopolitics and history, as it allows me to understand the world's interconnected dynamics and historical contexts.

Qu'est-ce que celles-ci vous ont apporté ? / What did you learn from them ?

From my free-time activities, I've learned several valuable lessons. Playing strategic games has taught me how to think critically, plan ahead, and adapt to unexpected challenges. Coding simple tools has improved my problem-solving skills and reinforced the importance of creativity and persistence in finding solutions.

Hiking has shown me the value of patience and resilience while helping me appreciate nature and take time to recharge. Visiting museums and studying history and geopolitics have deepened my understanding of different cultures and perspectives, teaching me to think globally and approach problems with an open mind.

These experiences have shaped my ability to think strategically, stay adaptable, and appreciate diverse viewpoints, all of which I aim to apply in both my studies and career.

Pays / Country	Royaume-Uni
Date d'arrivée / Date of arrival	01/01/2023
Durée (mois) / Duration of stay (months)	6
Description de l'expérience / Type of stay	During my internship as a Project Manager at Amazon Transportation Services in London, I had the chance to work in an international and dynamic environment. Professionally, I contributed to enhancing internal reporting processes and supported change management efforts, which improved efficiency and visibility across teams. Working in a global company allowed me to collaborate with colleagues from different backgrounds, strengthening my ability to communicate effectively and adapt to diverse perspectives. Personally, living and working in London exposed me to a multicultural setting, which broadened my understanding of how global teams operate. It was an enriching experience that helped me develop a deeper appreciation for international collaboration and the complexities of managing projects in a cross-cultural context.
